Yinjaa-Barni Art — Art Centre Manager

Job Package

Applications Due: 28 January 2026, or until suitable applicant confirmed.

Start Date: 30 March 2026

Term: Ten-month maternity leave cover, with possibility of extension or job share to be negotiated

Yinjaa-Barni Art is seeking a dynamic, dedicated, and highly professional Art Centre Manager to guide our thriving, family-oriented, industry-leading organisation. This rewarding role offers the opportunity to work alongside a strong Board, talented artists, and a supportive team who uplift and empower one another. Here, you don't just join a workplace — you become part of a community and a family.

In this role, you'll guide the day-to-day operations of the art centre while nurturing artistic excellence, cultural vitality, and strong community connections. Yinjaa-Barni Art has a number of exciting projects ahead, offering a meaningful chance to contribute and make your mark. The role also includes travel within WA and across Australia for art fairs, exhibitions, markets, and professional development opportunities.

Yinjaa-Barni Art is located in Ieramugadu/Roebourne in the Pilbara region of Western Australia and is celebrated for its high-quality contemporary works, strong cultural connections, and collaborative ethos.

About Yinjaa-Barni Art

Yinjaa-Barni Art is an Aboriginal-owned and governed corporation renowned for exceptional contemporary artworks, community-led decision-making, and a nurturing, collaborative workplace. Our artists work in a supportive environment where cultural knowledge, artistic innovation, and collective empowerment are celebrated.

The Art Centre is known for its professional standards, warm team culture, and history of success in national markets, exhibitions and award circuits.

About the Role

Reporting to the Yinjaa-Barni Board of Directors, the Art Centre Manager provides leadership across:

- Governance, operations, and administration
- Financial management and strategic planning
- Artistic development and artist support
- Marketing, sales, exhibitions, and partnerships

- Staff leadership and community engagement
- Regular domestic and national travel for art fairs & markets, exhibition events and professional development.

A one-month handover period ensures a smooth transition into the role.

The Manager oversees a team including 2 x part-time Studio Coordinators, 3 x Aboriginal Art Workers, and a group of practising artists.

About You

You are a highly organised, adaptable, culturally respectful leader who thrives in relationship-based work. You communicate clearly, support others, and work collaboratively with Aboriginal artists and community members. You are experienced in mentorship and business development, whilst valuing warmth and genuine connection.

The successful applicant will be physically and mentally adept for the work and will have the ability to collaborate with people of all ages, physical abilities and varying artistic experience.

Key Responsibilities

Strategic & Governance Leadership

- Support the ongoing delivery of the organisation's strategic and business plans.
- Support the Board and ensure compliance with governance requirements.
- Understand and respect traditional law and cultural leadership.

- Coordinate exhibitions, projects and on-Country trips.
- Ensure high standards for artwork production, documentation, and presentation.

Financial & Business Management

- Manage budgets, reporting, acquittals, and funding submissions.
- Oversee stock control, retail/wholesale sales, and financial systems.
- Explore new revenue streams, licensing opportunities, and projects.

Marketing & Promotion

- Lead local and national marketing activities.
- Maintain relationships with galleries, institutions, and partners.
- Oversee online sales, social media, and communications.

Human Resources & Community Engagement

- Lead and mentor staff.
 - Foster a culturally safe, supportive workplace.
 - Build strong community, local government, and stakeholder relationships.

Why Join Us?

Yinjaa-Barni Art is a place where innovation, cultural strength, and genuine care come together. You will be welcomed into a vibrant, supportive creative community where artists uplift one another, celebrate each other's achievements, and embrace you like family. This is more than a job — it is a meaningful role within a warm, collaborative environment grounded in deep cultural connection.

Living and working in the Pilbara offers an exceptional lifestyle filled with adventure, beauty, and balance. You will have the opportunity to explore the serene waterholes, ancient rock formations, and river systems of Millstream Chichester National Park — a place of immense cultural and ecological significance. The region also offers stunning coastal living, with the ability to visit neighbouring islands, go fishing, snorkelling, or simply enjoy the pristine coastline unique to this part of Western Australia. Regional living with nearby Karratha offering access to major services and regular flights to Perth. Working here brings deep professional reward, personal growth, and the chance to make a lasting contribution to one of Australia's leading Aboriginal art centres, while enjoying the extraordinary natural and cultural landscapes of the Pilbara.
